Guest Speaker Bio

Brendan Moriarty is the Real Property Asset Manager for the City of Oakland. His division manages the City's real estate matters, including the acquisition, disposition, leasing and licensing of real property. He has served as the project manager for the cultural conservation easement project since joining the City in January 2020. Prior to this role, Brendan managed the Bay Area conservation program for The Trust for Public Land and negotiated the return of a mile of the Sonoma County coast to the Kashia Band of Pomo Indians.

Darin Ranelletti is the Policy Director for Housing Security in the office of Oakland Mayor Libby Schaaf where he serves as a senior advisor to Mayor Schaaf on housing issues and leads interdepartmental initiatives and public-private partnerships to promote safe, healthy, affordable and stable housing in Oakland. Prior to joining Mayor Schaaf's team in 2018, he worked in the City of Oakland Planning and Building Department for 16 years, most recently as the Deputy Director where he oversaw the land use planning functions of the department, including development policy and major development projects.

Corrina Gould (Lisjan Ohlone) is the chair and spokesperson for the Confederated Villages of Lisjan — she was born and raised in Oakland, CA, the village of Huichin. A mother of three and grandmother of four, Corrina is the Co-Founder and Lead Organizer for Indian People Organizing for Change, a small Native run organization that works on Indigenous people issues and sponsored annual Shellmound Peace Walks from 2005 to 2009. These walks brought about education and awareness of the desecration of sacred sites in the greater Bay Area. As a tribal leader, she has continued to fight for the protection of the Shellmounds, uphold her nation's inherent right to sovereignty, and stand in solidarity with her Indigenous relatives to protect our sacred waters, mountains, and lands all over the world.

Her life's work has led to the creation of Sogorea Te' Land Trust, a women-led organization within the urban setting of her ancestral territory of the Bay Area. Sogorea Te' Land Trust works to return Indigenous land to Indigenous people. Based on an understanding that Oakland is home to many peoples that have been oppressed and marginalized, Sogorea Te works to create a thriving community that lives in relation to the land. Through the practices of repatriation, cultural revitalization, and land restoration, the Land Trust calls on native and non-native peoples to heal and transform legacies of colonization, genocide, and to do the work our ancestors and future generations are calling us to do.
